

Dr. John M. Ruiz is a Professor of Clinical Health Psychology in the Department of Psychology at the University of Arizona and is the Associate Director of Inclusivity, Diversity, Equity, and Accessibility (IDEA) in the UA Cancer Center. His funded program of research focuses on psychosocial influences on health with an emphasis on Hispanic/Latinx health. He is a past program chair for APS (2020), Past President of the Behavioral Medicine Research Council (BMRC), past chair of the APA's Committee on Socioeconomic Status and he has served on a numerous national DEI efforts including APA's Ad Hoc Committee on Health Equity and the 2021 APA Presidential Task Force on Health Equity. He is the current Editor-In-Chief of APA's Health Psychology, is a federally appointed member of the US Preventive Services Task Force, He identifies as a cisgender, Latino male and his pronouns are he/him/his/el.